

GUIDELINES FOR REVIEWING A CORE READING PROGRAM RUBRIC

LEAD21 Grade 3

Final Review

Directions for use:

- Thoroughly review the core reading program using the corresponding rubric.
- Only evaluate the individual components that correlate with the grade level to review. (Note the placement of the “x” within the grade level columns.)
- Each indicator must receive a score using the following criteria:
 - 2 – Exceeds expectations
 - 1 – Meets expectations
 - 0 – Does not meet expectations(For any indicator receiving a 0, comments must be provided justifying the score.)
- Record the total score for each area in the final row for the section.

INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN (ID)	K	1	2	3	4	5	6	Score	Comments (examples, strengths, concerns, questions)
1. Is there empirical research on this program's efficacy?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
2. Are resources available to help the teacher understand the rationale for the instructional approach and program strategies (e.g., articles, explanations in the teacher manuals, references, and reliable websites)?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
3. Does the comprehensive program address the five components of reading (phonological/phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary and comprehension)?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
4. In addition to the five components of reading, are other dimensions of reading such as spelling, writing, oral language, and listening comprehension addressed?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
5. Is there a scope and sequence?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
6. Are goals and objectives clearly stated?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
7. Are student materials aligned with instructional objective of the lesson?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	The set-up of the levels listed on the charts for leveled readers at the beginning of each unit is confusing. It took a bit of extra effort to locate information that mentioned the levels range from a year above or two years below grade level. It's refreshing to see materials at the levels that are needed for intensive interventions; hopefully the higher levels are sufficient for advanced readers.
8. Do instructional materials increase in difficulty as students' skills strengthen?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
9. Are all lessons and activities (e.g., whole group, small group, and centers) reading-related?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Specific plans are provided for all daily instruction from whole-class to every small group. Spot-on, intentional planning of quality instruction vs. leaving it very open and hoping it happens.
10. Is there a clear and logical organization to the lessons in:
The order and procedures of each day's lesson?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
The inclusion of all necessary materials?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
The consistency of each day's lesson	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2

format?
Addressing the components of reading every day?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
11. Is instruction consistently explicit? Is it concise, specific, and related to the objective?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Very specific but long and wordy; however, the information is direct and explicit enough to support even novice teachers. The online tools for planning are helpful for those who want or need to work on computers, enabling busy teachers to plan from home.
12. Are teacher directives highly detailed to ensure accurate implementation?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
13. Does the lesson format facilitate frequent interactions between teacher and students?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
14. Is instruction consistently systematic? Is there a prescribed order for introducing specific skills within each component of reading?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
15. Are there coordinated instructional sequences and instructional routines which include:
Modeling?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
Guided practice with feedback?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
Student practice and application?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
Cumulative review?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
16. Are there many guided practice opportunities for explicit teaching and teacher-directed feedback (for typically progressing readers and more for struggling readers)?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
17. Does the program provide clear guidance for the teacher to document student progress and inform instruction?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	It links up with Acuity, which could be very useful, especially for schools that already are using it.
18. Does instruction make a clear connection among all five components?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
19. Is scaffolding a prominent part of the lessons?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Sidebars provide lots of ideas in each daily lesson. Additional EL support is provided for leveled texts in the backs of the manuals.
20. Are instructions for scaffolding specific within each lesson?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
21. Are teachers encouraged to give immediate, specific feedback (corrective or positive)?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2

22. Is differentiated instruction prominent?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Differentiation is built in, explicitly and thoughtfully planned, and occurs daily in a variety of ways. Teachers have options vs. “have-tos,” which will support them in some of the many professional decisions they make each day. Differentiation shown through providing books and plans for students who need intensive intervention (up to 2 years below level) as well as those who are up to a year above level. Even though this “covers” a wide range of reading levels, it isn’t very precise (when you think in terms of DRAs, TRCs, or Fountas and Pinnell levels or Calkins’s text bands; however, it might work in terms of Lexiles). That said, the idea of linking small-group learning to what is going on in the whole-group session is brain-friendly and will support teachers in teaching bigger units of study (it doesn’t feel piece-meal). This type of instruction helps teachers and students build classroom community, allow for greater content-area inclusion and can serve as an impetus for group discussions that give everyone a voice from the jigsaw of groups. It seems less “scattered” and instead is more cohesive.
23. Is instruction differentiated based on assessment?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
24. Are directions for differentiating instruction specific?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
25. Is small-group instruction (small teacher-pupil ratio) part of daily instruction?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Teachers are to work with each small group on a daily basis. There are various aspects in both whole-class and small-group instruction that allow students to work collaboratively. It explicitly lays out how to meet with groups daily. Good questioning is used in daily plans. On the other hand, it appears that there are 32 units for 36 weeks--this allows a little breathing room, but not much, especially with the heavy load of testing at grade 3. This seems to assume that a teacher will never do a literature circle or book club group, even with advanced readers.
26. Are there guidelines for forming flexible groups based on student progress?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Demonstrated through benchmark testing. Also described at the beginning of Unit 1.
27. Are enrichment activities included for advanced students?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Gives several ways to enrich daily. Has a design around inquiry; it’s impressive to try that.
28. Does the program provide instruction for English Learners?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Very solid instructional plans and ideas for activities to ensure that all students are actively involved and engaged. Bonus ideas for working with ELs are included in the back of each Teacher Edition.
29. Does the program specify for whom it is appropriate (e.g., students on or	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2 above grade level, students slightly behind their peers, students more than one grade level behind their peers)?

30. Does the program specify who should provide instruction for accurate implementation (e.g., special education teacher, general education teacher, paraprofessional, or volunteer)?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Appears to be that the general education teacher would be providing the instruction. The back of each of the teaching manuals has information for the resource teacher. It implies that the Tier 2/3 could be done by resource teachers. The word "teacher" is used across the Teacher Edition.
31. Does the program specify the instructional setting (e.g., general education classroom, computer lab, or resource room)?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Appears to assume that instruction would take place in the general education setting. The small groups fall into "tiers," which can help teachers in making professional decisions about instruction, including who is in small groups and what texts and/or type of instruction is needed. This could help with planning a variety of structures with instructional assistants, teachers of students with specific learning disabilities, etc.

8. Is spelling taught during word learning so students can understand how sounds map onto print?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2

10. Are reviews of previously taught	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	1	There are reviews while the skills are being concepts and words frequent and cumulative?										taught, but not necessarily cumulative.

11. Is emphasis placed on fluency practice for each phonics component (e.g., sound identification, CVC blending, word recognition, multisyllabic words, and text reading)?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X		2
12. Are there ample decodable texts (familiar and unfamiliar) for students to practice applying their skills with phonic elements?	X	X	X	X					2	It may be very helpful to have leveled readers that are a year or more below grade level.
13. Are decodable texts read before trade books (for students to master new skills)?	X	X	X	X					1	There are lower leveled things to read, but nothing was truly labeled at this level as being "decodable."
14. Does the program clarify that high frequency words can be both regular and irregular?	X	X	X	X					1	The series seems to barely include high frequency words other than on the short list of "frequently misspelled words." Some are in the vocab lists for the leveled readers.
15. Does the program include explicit instruction in irregular words and decoding strategies for the decodable parts of words (clarifying that the letters represent their most common sounds as well as the irregularities of certain letters)?	X	X	X	X					1
16. Are the numbers of high frequency, irregular words introduced in one lesson kept to a minimum?	X	X	X	X					2	There are just a couple of vocab words for the class and then each leveled reader had its own words--usually a total of about 7--borderline high on the quantity.
17. Are irregular words pre-taught before students read connected texts?	X	X	X	X					2	When needed; some can be figured out from context clues, and these are noted.
18. Are difficult, high frequency words reviewed often and cumulatively?	X	X	X	X					1	There is a cumulative review of word studies at the end of each unit. It was not evident in the daily lesson, though a couple of high frequency words appear on each week's spelling list.
19. Are students taught the strategy of chunking when trying to decode multisyllabic words?		X	X	X	X	X	X		1	It's there but that standard is only addressed a total of 10 times in the first five units.
20. Does the program provide teacher modeling of a think-aloud strategy to aid in multisyllabic word analysis?		X	X	X	X	X	X		1
21. Are students taught strategies to read multisyllabic words by using prefixes, suffixes, and known word parts?		X	X	X	X	X	X		1

22. Is instruction explicit in the use of syllable types (e.g., open, closed, vowel-consonant-e, vowel combinations, r-controlled, and consonant-le)?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2	A lot of this is covered with the Spelling aspects of the program.
23. Is a section of the program devoted to advanced phonics (structural analysis) skills?			X	X	X	X	X	1	Yes, especially near the end (see Unit 8).
24. Are advanced phonics skills taught explicitly, first in isolation and then in words and connected texts?			X	X	X	X	X	2	By the latter unit some of the skills seemed pretty advanced. They were taught in isolation, sorted, and then connected.
25. Does the program include spelling strategies (e.g., word sorts, categorization activities, word-building activities, and word analogies)?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2	Lots of different spelling activities which will help students remember the spelling in their daily writing.
26. Is instruction in the meaning of roots and affixes explicit and do students analyze the relationship of spelling to meaning of complex words?				X	X	X	X	2
27. Are word parts that occur with high frequency (e.g., un-, re-, in-, and -ful) taught rather than those that occur only in a few words?		X	X	X	X	X	X	1	High frequency affixes were started very early in the year.
28. Are there activities for distinguishing and interpreting words with multiple meanings?		X	X	X	X	X	X	1
29. Once advanced phonics strategies have been mastered, are they immediately applied to reading and interpreting familiar and unfamiliar connected texts?		X	X	X	X	X	X	1	This is maybe done with phonics strategies, but not quite "advanced." The "challenge" activities provided in the margins are helpful for advanced students. By latter units, the phonics is becoming advanced and the challenges are definitely higher-level.
30. Are words used in advanced phonics activities also found in student texts?		X	X	X	X	X	X	1

7. Does the program address all dimensions of fluency (speed, accuracy, and prosody)?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
8. Does the program encourage the teacher to model speed, accuracy, and prosody?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
9. Does fluency practice during letter-sound study and text reading involve the teacher's providing feedback to students?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2	It does, especially during assessment.
10. Is fluency instruction integrated into each day's lesson?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
11. Is the decoding strategy taught so that it becomes automatic?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
12. Are irregular words taught to be recognized automatically?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	2
13. Is there an emphasis on reading multisyllabic words fluently?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2

15. Is fluency practice introduced after students are proficient at reading words accurately (e.g., in lists, sentences, and passages)?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2
16. Does fluency practice involve decodable texts (texts that include phonic elements and word types		X	X	X	X	X	X	2 students have previously been taught)?

17. Are both narrative and expository texts provided for students to read aloud?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2
18. Are teacher prompts included to encourage students to read aloud in order to determine skills application and accuracy?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2
19. After error correction, are students asked to reread the word, word list, or sentence correctly and then to reread it from the beginning?	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	1	Publisher's Comment: Students practice one fluency selection each week. Teachers conduct miscue analyses, including word-level errors of mispronunciation, using the Practice Companion workbooks and the Assessment Handbooks. Then students reread the same selection every day, each day focusing on a different skill: expression, phrasing, pacing, rehearsal, and presentation. Additionally, students use the Reading Response Forms in their Practice Companion workbooks to evaluate themselves and their reading partners on the Fluency readings, judging the accuracy of individual words, pacing, expression, and clarify after the first, the second, and the final readings for each Fluency selection.
20. Are students given ample practice opportunities to use text at their independent or instructional level to help build fluency?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2	It is really good to see the practice each day.
21. Is the number of texts at each level sufficient to provide adequate practice opportunities?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2
22. Does the program clearly show the teacher how to determine independent, instructional, and frustrational reading levels for individual students?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2
23. Is there a guide to help teachers calculate fluency rate?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2
24. Do students have opportunities to time themselves and graph results after rereading the same text?			X	X	X	X	X	0	Publisher's Comment: The Assessment Handbook contains a Fluency Chart to be used to record the correct words-per-minute for each Fluency selection. Teachers can photocopy these charts and distribute to students. Students can then make a graph to show their progress by connecting the dots from selection to selection. Student timing directions are not included.
25. Are there directions for how to pair students for partner reading?		X	X	X	X	X	X	1	Directions for HOW to pair students were not evident, though partner activities are often included. There was a box that indicated to build fluency with slower readers to pair them with more fluent readers as models/pacers. Including this in PD seems important.

26. Are students taught a specific error correction to use when reading with a partner?		X	X	X	X	X	X	1	Publisher's Comment: Specific fluency skills—expression, phrasing, and pacing—are explicitly taught in a whole group setting. Then students use the Reading Response Forms in their Practice Companion workbooks to evaluate themselves and their reading partners on the Fluency readings, judging the accuracy of individual words, pacing, expression, and clarify after the first, the second, and the final readings for each Fluency selection.
27. Is there continuous progress monitoring of oral reading fluency?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2
28. Is an end-of-the-year fluency goal of correct words per minute given for each grade?		X	X	X	X	X	X	2	It's in a document about fluency within the program, labeled for fall, winter and spring.
